Dear DOJ,

I think the proposed Microsoft Settlement is a travesty. With the recent news that Microsoft has cardboard kiosks in Posts Offices around the country, and that US Postal employees are actually helping promote their products, I can't help but think the large amount of soft money donations they've made has helped them purchase a slap on the hand. They are laughing at you, and this country. If I was the CEO of Microsoft, I'd be laughing at you.
